THE STORY

Mornings start on the covered wraparound porch, a broad concrete slab under cedar posts, with the whole yard in view. Step inside and the great room and kitchen open up beneath a vault, lit from above by the dormers. A walk-in pantry keeps the kitchen clear, and the dining table sits right where the conversation happens.

THE VIEW FROM THE BACK

Out back, a covered patio leads straight into the mudroom and laundry, so boots and gardening gear stay out of the living space. The primary suite sits at one end of the house with its own walk-in closet and bath. Bedrooms 2 and 3 share a hall bath at the other end, so everyone gets a little quiet. No stairs anywhere, now or years from now.
